Bass Fishermen will Say I'm Crazy . . . until they try my method!

But, after an honest trial, if you're at all like the other men to whom I've told my strange plan, you'll guard it with your last breath.

Don't jump at conclusions. I'm not a manufacturer of any fancy new lure. I have no reels or lines to sell. I'm a professional man and make a good living in my profession. But my all-absorbing hobby is fishing. And, quite by accident, I've discovered how to go to waters that everyone else says are fished out and come in with a limit catch of the biggest bass that you ever saw. The savage old bass that got so big, because they were "wise" to every ordinary way of fishing.

This METHOD is NOT spinning, trolling, casting, fly fishing, trot line fishing, set line fishing, hand line fishing, jugging, netting, trapping, seining, and does not even faintly resemble any of these standard methods of fishing. No live bait or prepared bait is used. You can carry all of the equipment you need in one hand.

The whole method can be learned in twenty minutes—twenty minutes of fascinating reading. All the extra equipment you need, you can buy locally at a cost of less than a dollar. Yet with it, you can come in after an hour or two of the greatest excitement of your life, with a stringer full. Not one or two miserable 12 or 14 inch over-sized keepers—but five or six real beauties with real poundage behind them. The kind that don't need a word of explanation of the professional skill of the man who caught them. Absolutely legal, too—in every state.

This amazing method was developed by a little group of professional fishermen. Though they are public guides, they rarely divulge their method to their patrons. They use it only when fishing for their own tables. It is probable that no man on your waters has ever seen it, ever heard of it, or ever used it. And when you have given it the first trial, you will be as closed-mouthed as a man who has suddenly discovered a gold mine. Because with this method you can fish within a hundred feet of the best fishermen in the county and pull in ferocious big ones while they come home empty handed. No special skill is required. The method is just as deadly in the hands of a novice as in the hands of an old timer. My method will be disclosed only to those few men in each area who will give me their word of honor not to give the method to anyone else.

Send me your name. Let me tell you how you can try out this deadly method of bringing in big bass from your "fished out" waters. Let me tell you why I let you try out my unusual method for the whole fishing season without risking a penny of your money. Send your name for details of my money-back trial offer. There is no charge for this information, now or at any other time. Just your name is all I need. But I guarantee that the information I send you will make you a complete skeptic—until you decide to try my method! And then, your own catches will fill you with disbelief. Send your name, today. This will be fun.

ERIC H. FARE, 317 S. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville 20, Ill.

ERIC H. FARE, 317 S. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville 20, Ill.

Dear Mr. Fare: Send me complete information without any charge and without the slightest obligation. Tell me how I can learn your method of catching big bass from "fished out" waters, even when the old timers are reporting, "No Luck."

A Case of TRICKERY

MRS. O'CONNOR was bustling about the house and Candy was helping to get everything in order when Ted barged in. "What's buzzin', cousin?" he asked. "What brought on the big cleaning spree?"

"Company," grimaced Candy, taking Ted aside so that her mother wouldn't hear what she said. "Some horrible woman that mom knew years ago is coming by with her sonny boy. I think it's going to be gruesome."

"Will it interfere with our date for the dance tonight?" asked Ted.

"Not if I can help it," replied Candy. Then gesturing for Ted to be on his way, she added, "I have to help mom now but drop by about two this afternoon and give me an excuse to break away, huh?"

"Sure," grinned Ted. "I'll be here."

The house was in apple pie order and Candy and her mother were neat and ready when Mrs. Morgan and her son Todd arrived at noon. Candy stared from the window at the long, shining convertible and the fellow who was driving it. Could this be the boy her mother had told her about? She had expected to see a brat of about ten, not a tall handsome young man of twenty. She rushed to the mirror to put an extra pat to her hair. She hadn't expected to see anyone so exciting.

The four had lunch at the O'Connors. Todd turned his entire attention to Candy. He talked while she listened. He told of his great achievements in high school and of his stupendous popularity in college. He bragged about his special talents in sports. He discussed his tailor made clothes. He made slight mention of how girls annoyed him, trying to get dates. Candy was impressed. She actually forgot about Ted in her enthusiasm for Todd Morgan. And she was about to have a ride in the sleek convertible when Ted walked up the street.

"Hi, Candy," he beamed. "I came by to keep our date for this afternoon and—"

"I'm sorry," replied Candy snobbishly, "but can't you see that I'm busy? I told you we were having guests."

She introduced the two fellows and then excused herself to rush into the house for a wrap. But as she looked back and saw them talking together, she thought, "There's absolutely no comparison. Ted's never grown up. Todd is quite a man."

Trish came along about that time. Ted made the introduction. And the three stood beside the convertible—Trish and Ted and Todd. But Todd did all the talking. He boasted about his car. He made a big point of the fact that he dated debs in the city. He referred to the fact that most of them were rich.

When Candy came to join them, she smiled at Ted and said, "I'm sorry but I won't see you tonight. I'm taking Todd to the dance."

As the big car sped away, Trish and Ted looked at each other with upturned noses. "Whew," remarked Ted. "What a conceited character."

"A goon man, if you ask me," remarked Trish. "If Candy wants him, she can have him."

"Hey, not so fast," protested Ted. "Do you think I want that dope cutting in on my territory? I've already lost my date for the dance tonight."

Trish had promised to go with Dean. "But Cornelia's free," she said to Ted. "I heard her say that she wasn't going to the dance and it's probably because no one has asked her. So that's your chance!"

"Me take Cornelia Clyde?" objected Ted. "You know I can't stand that snooty babe!"

"Neither can I," smiled Trish. "But ask her anyway. Remember that birds of a feather flock together. And leave everything to me. We'll try a little trickery."

Ted saw the twinkle in Trish's eye and knew that she was to be trusted. So he invited Cornelia to the dance and was accepted. And that night, he had to admit to himself that Cornelia looked beautiful even if she was big-headed and a bore. Candy was dancing with Todd organ and seemed to be completely absorbed in his charming ways. But when Trish sidled up to talk to Cornelia, Ted saw that she was working out a plan and excused himself for the moment.

"This friend of Candy's," Trish explained, "is very wealthy and has a big car and—" She rambled on and on and could see that Cornelia was impressed and was ready to stop at nothing to get him away from Candy. Then, when she saw Candy go to the powder room, Trish talked to Todd. "That's Cornelia Clyde over there," she said, nodding to the girl who was watching out of the corner of her eye. "She comes from the finest family in town. They're rolling in money. And she would like to meet you."

Todd asked to be introduced and Trish did the honors. When Candy returned, Todd and Cornelia were dancing together and seemed smitten with each other.

"Well, I like that," scoffed Candy. "If he hasn't any better sense than to go for her—"

"I didn't want to bring her, Candy," explained Ted, "but you let me down and she was all that was left."

"We'll leave them both," declared Candy with her nose tilted in the air. "I don't care for either of them."

So Candy and Ted spent the rest of the evening at the dance together and Trish watched and enjoyed the results of her case of trickery.

Can You Solve This Puzzle?

THE PUZZLE BELOW IS A SAMPLE—UNDER THE PUZZLE IS A COMPLETE EXPLANATION OF HOW TO SOLVE IT

The Solution Is One of the Last Names Below:

Edward W. BOK

Robert E. LEE

Peter PAN

Francis Scott KEY

Franz ABT

Edgar Allan POE

Look at the puzzle above. This puzzle represents the last name of one of the famous persons you see listed under it. Now of course, you want to know: How do you solve the puzzle to find out what name it represents?

First of all, note the various letters and objects pictured, and the plus and minus signs. There's the letter C to begin with, followed by plus OWL plus EYE plus TANK, so we add 'em all together and get COWLEYETANK... from which we then subtract TOWEL and CAN; as indicated by the minus signs. That means we take away the letters TOWELCAN from COWLEYETANK, which leaves us with the letters YEK.

Therefore, we now scan the names under the puzzle and sure enough, there we see that last name of Francis Scott KEY... and by rearranging YEK into KEY, we know that KEY is the name we're looking for!

That, briefly, is the general idea behind the puzzles of this contest—plus another interesting little twist that we'll explain with the rules and details which we'll send you when you mail the coupon below.

If this contest—and its $100,000.00 in Cash Prizes—are of interest to you, by all means mail the coupon today for full particulars FREE... and entirely without obligation!

★ MAIL COUPON ★ TODAY

FOR BASIC PUZZLES AND DETAILS FREE!

This May Be Your Time To Win!

A great, new contest!—with $100,000.00 in cash prizes!—topped by a First Prize of $50,000.00! Yes—of $100,000.00 to be awarded, $50,000.00 may become yours! Details and official contest rules are available FREE, and will be sent together with the 30 official basic puzzles on receipt of the coupon printed below. As stated, there is no charge for these puzzles and details, nor do you obligate yourself in any way by mailing the coupon.

See Sample Puzzle at Left

The thirty basic puzzles are similar in construction and idea to the Sample Puzzle at the left. Study this Sample Puzzle and read the explanation under it. Note how, by adding and subtracting the letters in the names of the objects in the puzzle, you are finally left with certain letters which, when properly arranged, spell out the last name of one of the famous people listed.

The puzzles in this contest provide not only fun and fascination, but may prove to be your means of winning a fortune!

Perhaps your dream is to own a home of your own. Or perhaps it's your child's education that is uppermost in your mind. Then again, perhaps you've been wanting to go into your own business. Whatever it is, a winning of $50,000.00 could surely help make your wish come true!

Here's What to Do:

Look over the Sample Puzzle at upper left. Get a taste of the enjoyment and challenge in store for you. Then mail at once the coupon below—and we'll send you, FREE, and entirely without obligation, the 30 official basic puzzles, together with full details.

Why Contest Is Being Conducted

This contest is being conducted under the sponsorship of the publishers of The Standard International Encyclopedia, as a means of introducing this splendid set of reference works to you and to your friends. It is our feeling that people like puzzles, that puzzles in themselves are inherently educational, and that with the challenge of puzzles coupled with the opportunity to win big money, we can dramatically bring this fine Encyclopedia to the attention of more people than we might through the usual type of advertising.

That is why we have diverted $100,000.00 of our advertising appropriation into a cash prize fund to be distributed to the winners of this intriguing puzzle competition. And in presenting this contest, we invite YOU to send for the official basic puzzles together with full rules and details.
